Dear Parent/Carer

We are very aware of the additional pressures placed on our year eleven students this year as a result of the current pandemic and want to do everything we can to alleviate anxieties leading up to their summer exams. Many of our students have requested additional sessions after school to help them with their catch up from our national lockdown.

We are delighted to confirm that after considerable thought and risk assessment, we are now in a position to offer these sessions to a restricted number of students and subjects. In order to ensure we continue to maintain our high standard of Covid safety measures, we will be giving students the option to attend one subject session per evening and these will currently only be available to year eleven students. During these sessions, students must continue to comply with the same strict 'Covid safety' guidelines as they do in lessons; seating plans and all other restrictions remain in place and must be observed.

Students will be invited to attend by their class teacher and although this is voluntary, where students are comfortable to do so, we strongly recommend your child attends the sessions they are invited to in order to maximise their success in their GCSEs.

The sessions for this half term are as follows:
